

8 Week MBSR Course – Mindfulness Based Stress Reduction

MBSR is an 8-week intensive training in mindfulness meditation, based on ancient healing practices, which meets on a weekly basis. Mindfulness practice is ideal for cultivating greater awareness of the unity of mind and body, as well as of the ways the unconscious thoughts, feelings, and behaviours can undermine emotional, physical, and spiritual health. The mind is known to be a factor in stress and stress-related disorders, and meditation has been shown to positively affect a range of autonomic physiological processes, such as lowering blood pressure and reducing overall arousal and emotional reactivity.

In addition to mindfulness practices, MBSR uses yoga to help reverse the prevalence of disuse atrophy from our culture's largely sedentary lifestyle, especially for those with pain and chronic illnesses. The program brings meditation and yoga together so that the virtues of both can be experienced simultaneously.

This course allows people to mobilize their own inner resources of mind and body to become more responsible for their personal health and healing. This course requires commitment and consists of 40min daily home practice.

History

The MBSR course was pioneered and developed by Jon Kabat-Zinn, Ph.D., at the University of Massachusetts Medical Centre. This intensive program was originally used to complement the conventional medical management of a wide variety of types of stress related illness, chronic pain, and depression. It proved to be a huge success and is now the most widely researched and documented Mindfulness Program so far with very compelling and astounding results.
